Your pet will be undergoing general anesthesia plus a surgical procedure today. In order to recognize any underlying abnormalities your pet may have, we recommend having a pre-surgical blood profile run on your animal. This consists of a CBC, which will check blood cells, and an ALT, ALKP, CREA, GLU, TP, and BUN, which will check blood glucose, kidney and liver enzymes.

These blood tests will help us to assess the health status of your pet more completely and determine if there are any additional precautions we need to take before surgery. We highly recommend a blood profile for geriatric animals (animals older than 7 years).

There is an additional charge for these blood tests. We hope you understand the need for these important tests.

I DO _____ DO NOT _____ wish to have the pre-surgical blood work run today. (Please initial above).

An ECG (electrocardiogram) detects electrical problems in the heart, including irregular heart rates and arrhythmias. This can help your veterinarian diagnose certain types of underlying heart disease. It also serves as a complementary diagnostic for heart enlargement, electrical impulse abnormalities and valve disease.

There is an additional charge for the ECG. We hope you understand the need for this important test.

I DO _____ DO NOT _____ wish to have the ECG testing done today.

For the comfort of your pet, it is recommended that a pain medication be prescribed for use at home. This reduces the pain and inflammation associated with the procedure and will speed recovery. The cost of a NSAID will range from $9-$58 dependant on the weight of the animal.

I DO _____ DO NOT _____ wish to have my pet go home on a pain medication.
