Reasons your pet is the best date on Valentine's Day!

No date for February 14? Fret not!

Who needs a date when you've got the best companion you could ask for already by your side? Enjoy this Valentine's Day with the one who adores you the most – your pet!

Why your pet is the best date on Valentine's Day:

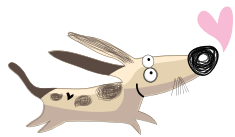

1 They don't play mind games

Our pets never lie, so you don't have to guess what they're thinking. No mixed signals, just a relaxed time!

3 They won't bail on you

Your pet will never stand you up on a date. How can you argue with that?

5 You don't have to share your dinner

But if you have something safe to share with them, they'll love every morsel.

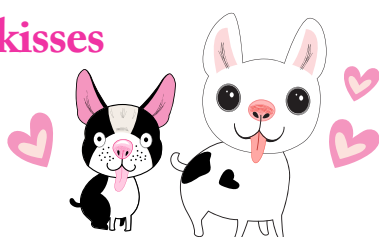

7 They love to cuddle

Your pet will boost your mood and lower your stress.

9 They give better kisses

Enough said!

2 You can decide what to do

Whether you're outside or watching a movie, as long as they're with you, they're happy! Easy, peasy!

4 You don't need to dress up

Your pet doesn't care what you look like, so if you want to live in sweats that day, go for it!

6 You can eat all the chocolate

And you won't feel guilty, because they're bad for your pet.

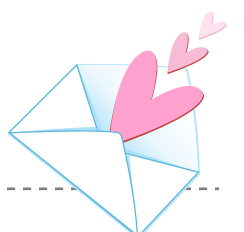

8 They're great listeners

They won't judge what you say or interrupt.

10 They won't break your heart

Your pet will melt your heart with their ways, but they will never hurt you!
